

Happy Winter!

It's a great day here at the North Pole. My stomach is full of cookies and the reindeer are having lots of fun getting ready for the big day.

I have the newest trains, cars and boats, dolls, balls and stuffed animals. It's going to be a big toy season! But don't worry, we also have all the latest, Barbies, Legos, and much more!

I was looking over the naughty and nice list and noticed your name has made the nice list! I am so happy for you! Be sure to keep being nice and helping around your home and I am sure you will get something great for Christmas!

I will see you soon! Merry Christmas!
