

Happy Winter!

It is so busy here at the North Pole. Rudolph is polishing his nose, Mrs. Claus is baking her best cookies, and I have been jogging, getting ready for the big chimney slides!

Let's see what's new, Rudolph has a new bell collar and Dasher has a new Superman cape. He's a big Superman fan, he likes to wear his cape as he delivers my mail to me here at the North Pole. Ho Ho Ho Ha Ha Ha!

As I was going over the naughty and nice list, I noticed you just made it onto the nice list! I am so happy for you! Be sure to help out around the house and be nice to others and I will be sure to leave you something nice for Christmas. I will be watching! See you soon!
